

Shuming Hua graduated from department of physics in Beijing University of Chemical Technology, China, in 1982.

He joined National Lighting Test Centre in 1982, since he graduated from Beijing University of Chemical Technology. He became the technical person in charge since 2001, and because of his deeply understanding of lighting, he is also the administrative authority.

Presently he is the Director of National Lighting Test Centre.